(Product line or brand graphics)

1. This front page should be a full page picture showcasing your product or brand
2. The next page (print on the back of this sheet) is where you can list the specific products associated with this particular product line.

TIP: print on heavy card stock paper for the best professional appearance.

Contact sales sheets make a great informational brochure and are great for customers and distributors to refer to when they need important information about a product line such as packaging options, distributor contact info, etc.
